

Short Film Presentation of the World Theatre Day Message by Theodoros Terzopoulos

A powerful cinematic interpretation of the World Theatre Day 2025 Message, this short film captures the essence of Theodoros Terzopoulos' vision through striking imagery and evocative locations in Athens.

A co-production of the International Theatre Institute and the Cyprus Centre of the International Theatre Institute, the film immerses the audience in the profound message of World Theatre Day. The production of the short film was undertaken by Long Run Productions (specialising in documentary production, archive research and cultural social media campaigns) and was directed by Nikos Pastras (awarded director and editor of short, documentary and feature films).

Filming Locations in Athens: A Symbolic Choice

Each filming site -archaeological and non- was carefully selected to enhance the meaning and impact of the Message, highlighting the connection between theatre and world cultural heritage, starting with Greece as the birthplace:

- Theatre of Dionysus Eleuthereus, Odeon of Herodes Atticus & Ancient Agora of Athens (Acropolis Hill) – A tribute to the origins of theatre and its deep connection with the city.
- Attis Theatre – Terzopoulos' personal artistic space, where his voice finds its natural resonance, capturing a more intimate and intellectual perspective.
